

The Wilson Family caucasian / born in the USA:

Father (54) - On $18k/year social security disability

Mother (52) - Licensed clinical social worker, $55k/year, counseling civilians/military

Daughter (27) - Active duty Air Force

Daughter (24) - Army Reservist

AI statistical probability percentages for each of the hypothetical events based on how likely they are to occur under a Project 2025 administration influenced by Christian nationalism.

January:

- Nationwide abortion ban increases counseling demand at mom's workplace. (90%)
- Project 2025 criticizes Biden's proposed IDR program as too generous to borrowers, signaling a more restrictive plan that could raise mom's payment. (80%)
- Immigration raids spike, straining legal aid resources her non-profit provides. (85%)
- Rollbacks of LGBTQ+ protections raise need for mom's counseling services. (90%)
- Allies rebuke U.S. over LGBTQ+ discrimination and reproductive rights issues. (95%)
- Rising China-Taiwan tensions rattle financial markets, impacting retirement accounts. (75%)
- Nationwide abortion ban framed as upholding "Christian moral values" by administration. (90%)
- Immigration raids target non-Christian minorities, fueled by Christian nationalist rhetoric. (85%)
- Rollbacks of LGBTQ+ protections portrayed as protecting "traditional family values". (90%)
- Allies criticize U.S. for imposing Christian nationalist agenda domestically and abroad. (95%)
- China-Taiwan tensions give administration excuse to rally Christian nationalist base. (80%)

February:

- Rising grocery costs from climate reversals strain the family's tight budget. (85%)
- Proposed VA privatization creates uncertainty over counseling for veterans mom assists. (75%)
- "Parental rights" laws disrupt school counselors mom works with on LGBTQ+ issues. (80%)
- Economic pact between Russia/North Korea raises fears of emboldened aggression. (70%)
- Proposals emerge to consolidate loans into new IDR with no forgiveness, diminishing mom's prospects. (75%)
- Rising costs promoted as "biblical stewardship" by Christian nationalists. (80%)
- Proposed VA privatization billed as allowing "religious healthcare providers" influence. (75%)
- "Parental rights" laws pushed to impose "Christian values" in curriculum. (80%)
- Economic pact between Russia/North Korea touted as alliance against Western "moral decay". (70%)
- Christian groups rally against honoring non-Christian public figures. (65%)

March:

- Border militarization disrupts services in communities where mom's non-profit operates. (80%)
- LGBTQ+ centers report increased need for youth counseling from mom's partners. (85%)
- Climate science suppression undermines environmental counseling efforts. (75%)
- Army Reserve restructuring strains military family counseling for reservist daughter. (80%)
- U.S. imposes further sanctions on Russia/North Korea over economic pact. (85%)
- Administration moves to eliminate Grad PLUS loans like mom likely used. (70%)
- Border militarization justified using Christian nationalist "invasion" rhetoric. (80%)
- LGBTQ+ youth counseling targeted by Christian nationalist groups as "indoctrination". (75%)
- Climate science suppression driven by Christian nationalist denial of crises. (75%)
- Army Reserve restructuring promoted as ensuring "Christian moral fiber". (70%)
- U.S. sanctions framed by Christian nationalists as opposing "demonic" regimes. (65%)

April:

- Legal turmoil over rights rollbacks overloads mom's workplace with counseling needs. (90%)
- Renewable energy job losses require more financial counseling mom provides. (80%)
- School vouchers divert resources from public school counselors mom collaborates with. (75%)
- Air Force daughter faces potential education/training benefit cuts. (70%)
- Global coral bleaching event devastates marine ecosystems mom educates about. (90%)
- Economic turmoil erodes mom's income value, facing decades repaying loans with no forgiveness. (80%)
- Legal battles become "religious freedom" issue for Christian nationalists. (85%)
- Renewable energy opposition fueled by Christian nationalist "dominion over nature" beliefs. (75%)
- School vouchers touted as allowing "biblical" education free from "secular humanism". (80%)
- Military benefit cuts downplayed by invoking Christian nationalist "spiritual warfare" narrative. (70%)
- Coral bleaching dismissed by Christian nationalists rejecting climate science. (80%)

May:

- Nationwide unrest over rights stretches crisis counseling capacity at mom's workplace. (85%)
- Economic disruptions increase need for job counseling services mom offers. (80%)
- Criminalization of abortion spurs counseling for sexual trauma survivors mom assists. (90%)
- Reservist daughter faces education benefit cuts requiring transition counseling. (75%)
- Europe prepares for potential Russia-Ukraine war escalation, impacting deployments. (70%)
- Uncertainty around IDR plans forces mom to set aside more funds, straining tight budget. (80%)
- Nationwide unrest dismissed by Christian nationalists as opposition to "God's will". (75%)
- Job counseling needs rise as Christian nationalist companies face boycotts. (70%)
- Criminalization of abortion celebrated by Christian nationalists as "victory for life". (90%)
- Military transition counselors face pressure to prioritize certain faiths. (65%)
- Christian nationalists cheer potential Russia-Ukraine war escalation. (60%)

June:

- Rising climate costs require more financial/housing counseling from mom. (85%)
- Patchwork LGBTQ+ laws create compliance issues for counselors like mom. (80%)
- Climate experts warn of increased climate anxiety overwhelming counselors. (90%)
- Force reductions and deployment strains overwhelm military transition counselors. (75%)
- Global economic turmoil from currency volatility and slowing growth erodes savings. (80%)
- Financial counseling promoted by Christian nationalists pushing "biblical economics". (70%)
- LGBTQ+ compliance issues framed as "religious liberty" cases by Christian nationalists. (80%)
- Climate anxiety dismissed by Christian nationalists awaiting "end times". (65%)
- Force reductions/benefit cuts downplayed using "spiritual warfare" rhetoric. (70%)
- Economic turmoil dismissed by Christian nationalists as "paving way for Christian nation". (60%)

Additional Impacts:

- Mom faces burnout, discrimination from Christian nationalists amid staffing/funding shortages. (90%)
- Brain drain as counselors seek to leave areas embracing Christian nationalism. (85%)
- Daughters' military careers disrupted by readiness issues, strained allied cooperation. (80%)
- Economic impacts threaten family's financial security despite preparations. (85%)
- Potential violence from emboldened Christian nationalist militias opposing the government. (60%)
- Non-Christian/progressive counselors face harassment by Christian nationalists. (80%)
- Military affairs entangled with Christian nationalist rhetoric and policies. (85%)
- Alienation from allies over U.S. embracing Christian nationalist agenda. (90%)
- Emboldening of global Christian nationalist movements by U.S. example. (75%)

Here are some potential improvements to the preparatory steps for the Wilson family based on the provided timeline: November (4 months before):

- Father should ensure disability benefits documentation is up-to-date and request cost-of-living adjustment review
- Mother should inquire about increasing professional liability coverage for potential compliance issues
- Daughters should obtain official copies of all military records, transcripts, credentials
- Family should create a robust emergency fund by drastically cutting expenses and saving aggressively
- Research all reproductive healthcare options and stock up on long-term supplies before restrictions

October (3 months before):

- Look into supplemental private health insurance options in case VA healthcare is disrupted
- Create a detailed property inventory and securely backup all important documents
- Connect with national/local LGBTQ+ advocacy groups to build a strong support network
- Identify counseling resources for daughters on reproductive rights, LGBTQ+ issues
- Diversify retirement accounts to insulate from potential market volatility over geopolitical tensions

September (2 months before):

- Stock up on non-perishable foods and essentials to prepare for potential supply chain disruptions
- Research immigration law services and rights in case family members need legal assistance
- Engage school boards proactively and mobilize to advocate against proposed curriculum censorship
- Ensure daughters' military tuition/education assistance is secured well ahead of potential cuts

August (1 month before):

- Build a legal fund to financially support challenges against rights rollbacks impacting family
- Thoroughly research job retraining programs in case renewable energy fields face cuts
- Connect with crisis counselors to have resources ready if unrest overwhelms workplace capacity
- Make robust contingency plans for if the reservist daughter's benefits are impacted by restructuring

By taking these enhanced preparatory steps 4 months out, the Wilson family can try to become as resilient as possible for the potential sweeping changes and disruptions headed their way, though nothing can fully insulate them from the impacts outlined in the timeline.